1	25-Jul-20	@nikkifried I am a teacher and I am mad as hell that we are basically being forced to immerse ourselves in a pitri-dish ripe with opportunity for the Covid virus to flourish and hurt kids and possibly kill teachers. The data shows we should teach online. The governor is an idiot!	8-Aug-20	@RayGarciahawaii Ugh how awful! Domestic abuse, child abuse, crime, suicide, homelessness, drug & alcohol sales- ALL UP with #COVID__19 Child rape, trafficking, blackmail is horrific but occurs whether schools are open or not. Educators who teach personal ideologies scare me but I see your point!
2	20-Nov-20	My (online learning) son's elementary teacher is taking a medical leave because she feels unsafe having to teach in person with a medical condition (hybrid model). And the first COVID case popped up in their school. I have a bad feeling things are about to fall apart here.	30-Dec-20	@SkyNews @RachelReevesMP Well Rachel, I would like you to teach for a month in a failing school, where unmasked children won't distance from staff and discipline is not enforced by the head (and don't those kids know it). It's war. It's bloody dangerous. And you might die of Covid.
3	7-Jul-20	Due to this CoVid situation I'm going to have to teach an online course (intro to bioinformatics) and now I feel so guilty. This is absurd... international academics do not need any more stress. Imagine how it is to live through a pandemic and also with the fear of deportation!	22-Apr-20	@rupertevelyn Utilise systems prepared 3 wks pre lockdown; teach until end of last Friday before lockdown; had virus; plan work; set up support for pupils; sort out FSM debacle; worry about at risk kids; look-after own family; lose family to Covid; be afraid; keep schools open. Enough for you?

4	22-Oct-20	Feeling exhausted and scared. It's been a tough week. An immediate family member might have COVID, they found cancer in my dog and he needs surgery, and I'm trying to somehow successfully teach online while keeping the household together. Feels like I'm hanging by a thread.	20-Jun-20	@BoozeShooze @bbbbbbbruh @Frankiew4ters @VictorPopeJr I studied Anatomy and physiology and teach it at a secondary school. I understand that most people who are terminal die from complications such as infection, viruses and weakened immune systems not their illness. Their death certificate will state that as with Covid
5	17-Jul-20	We already have a teacher shortage and with COVID on the rise in many states, teachers are quitting for fear of dying. We are losing many good teachers due to having to teach online. I fear that we will lose more teachers or not have anyone in the profession until COVID is over. https://t.co/HRWoiPYZRO	10-Jul-20	@realDonaldTrump If virtual learning was a failure it was because parents of lack of equipment , ignorance , laziness and pouting . Instead killing more US citizens during flu and cold and covid 19 season . Teach parents how to home school give out computers , free wifi and food
6	22-Sep-20	professors struggling to teach and students having trouble studying because of online classes is not "cute" it's a failure of the system and the covid pandemic response. stop telling people to "suck it up" because we "arent going through war" or "it could be worse"	18-Nov-20	Enough teachers to teach what children are not off ill and fighting the virus. Today they had too many sick & had no choice but to close. Levels of Covid have shot right up here and surely now it's time for a rethink. Both the govt & Kier Starmer were wrong to reopen schools.

7	14-Mar-21	@AllHandsCook @3rdtimewalter Crap. DPCSB just gave my high risk wife the option of EI and lose benefits or come in and teach. Refuse to even entertain offering her accommodation with an online class. They are willing to accept the PR /media disaster if she catches covid.	31-May-20	@dig8teacher @keithbaldrey @glenhansman Fear mongering!! Greater odds of dying from cancer than dying from COVID! And that is just one other disease. Wash your hands and don't touch your face! If someone has an underlying condition then stay home!! If you can't teach that in school then we have a problem!
8	19-Oct-20	@JamesBooth76 @vial42 @LondonBreed @RecParkSF @SF_DPH @SF_emergency Yea, and my cousins got covid and were coughing up blood. You fail the children so you dont have to teach online using junk science to fit your ideal and are going to cause more death over its spread, now using the guise of mental illness thats always been there.	1-Jun-20	@JJ_Stellies I teach Gr 7. As I read regulations & then our school's revised code of conduct for COVID-19 infractions, I went into a panic attack, to the point were I needed anti-anxiety meds. The rules will punish kids for being kids. I despair at the emotional toll that will have on kids
9	17-Dec-20	.@educationgovuk is winging it rather than planning. Dreadful leadership expecting staff to teach face to face and online, track and trace, fund ppe and sanitiser, test for COVID, refuse schools to close, oh and delay payment and no pay rise. All at last minute. #pathetic	22-Jul-20	@wesbury So on top of dealing with budget issues(lack of cleaning supplies), common cold, flu, chicken pox, and other childhood illness that run crazy in schools on a normal basis. You want teachers to also expose themselves to covid-19 now because your unwilling to teach your own kids!

10	24-Jun-20	Anonymous question "My R1 state university is now requiring people who have requested to teach online in Fall 2020 due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic to provide doctor notes. Is this egregious mistrust and/or common practice? Are others experiencing this?"	23-Dec-20	@sayyedkhandan @shafei_d So BBC Persian are lying again: - They inflate the numbers by saying that anyone who died 28 days after testing positive died from Covid (even if they had terminal cancer or an accident); - I teach in high school: the kids hate wearing masks!
11	18-Sep-20	A2 #ElevateTheConvo I found it very helpful to write poetry re: stress, uncertainty, frustration, unknown, anger & shock during the first few Covid months & was published in a anthology books, online & in paper. I teach Haiku & attendees wrote about feelings re: #Covid Poignant! https://t.co/aM9NI01uvM	13-Nov-20	@GovMikeDeWine Don't do it, he'll try and kill ya. My sister who was forced to teach in person is now Covid+, so is her daughter now. You did this to her. Close k-12 schools. Teachers get shit on enough in society. They are not babysitters. You are killing them. Shame on you sir.
12	17-Apr-20	I spoke with '19 UM grad Pierce Morrison, who's quarantined in South Korea. He moved to teach English just as COVID hit. He and other foreign teachers are out of work — now fighting for shift to online format. He says isolation in a foreign country is "hardest thing" #COVID19 https://t.co/LnyfTuCrjM	28-Mar-20	@warriorwoman91 @JoelBerkowitz Also, a great case for teaching your kids about statistics, like how many more kids his age die of things like Flu, Covid, or car accidents vs school shootings. You could also teach him about propaganda and media manipulation, why one is covered and the others are not.
13	31-Aug-20	@jillcolvinjones teacher median age? 40? covid risk, in the US, is equivalent to... 1.4 years worth of risk of death from an accidental injury shall we bubble wrap you too? age 60? online teach & tutor your women's studies, free the youth, get the vaccine west point grad	17-Jun-20	@sallyld @clry2 We have to stop insulting teachers They are there to teach NOT day care providers Children do carry the disease! Daughter (P2) teacher, almost died after being infected at her school Her class had a parent returning from EU & no SI She got "virus overload" & Covid Pneumonia!

14	15-Jul-20	@Never_Die_Easy @RM_Bailes @chipfranklin @HillaryClinton I'm a teacher who is a diabetic and at high risk of dying from CoVid-19. I'm ready to go back because kids need the interaction and face to face instruction. Data is overwhelming that online doesn't teach kids. My students have higher risk of dying from the flu statistically.	22-Nov-20	@saradannerdukic And more: * If hospitals are overwhelmed, people with emergency conditions other than Covid are shut-out as well, increasing mortality * If so many are sick/dying, who will teach schools, run stores, distribute food? Not sure what it will take for folks to wake-up.
15	8-May-21	@DeShobhaa he wont madam. somebody advice him the dirty monkey bath slot to some medical experts to teach on online d medical staff and field workers about Covid danger and solutions to fight it on war foot. kaam ki bhat from Soren jr to Modi is an emphatic msg.	19-Nov-20	@GovMurphy @NYGovCuomo @GovernorTomWolf @JohnCarneyDE @GovNedLamont @GovRaimondo @MassGovernor Lots of schools didn't have "proper ventilation" and the kids were freezing bc they were forced to teach with windows open. It's only November. The disparity between public schools and private ones in this pandemic is disgusting. This is not just about covid.
15	11-Dec-20	there is no doubt that the Covid infection will increase drastically, effecting everyone who comes to the college. As per government order, online / offline / integrated media is used to teach students. If this is the case, the tests should also be online / offline.	24-Aug-20	@Ruili47478147 @DonnellyStephen Home school them then.... mind you I'd be worried about your children's education if you were to teach them given your level of anxiety about children returning to school. More chance of them being hit by lightning than falling ill from Covid. https://t.co/fXmU2suBZE

17	23-Jun-20	Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) COVID 19 has affected us all in some way. After losing 20 lbs during lent I gained 8 lbs back trying to teach online during the Pandemic. What's your COVID weight number? Share your COVID story. https://t.co/owlo28qQkP via @CDCgov	1-Oct-20	@deathntaxesprof @Thea_G_Sinclair If Trump gets back in, he will essentially be king. Schools will be forced to teach “patriot” propaganda. In places like Texas they’re already trying to make slavery appear like laborers that happened to be black. 😞 Our history & future are at risk. Much like COVID, it’s on us.
18	22-Jul-20	@LauraLynn209 @EamonJavers Where I teach, they are preparing for students and faculty to get COVID but refuse to go online. Money trumps our health. Sickness and death may be the result If so, mulit-million dollar lawsuits will be filed and the money gained will be meniscal when conpared to the loss	28-Jan-21	@BrianFiddle @marcorubio Educators are wrong though. Risk of infection in schools is very low. Couple that with the fact that the death rate is extremely low and you’ll see that it isn’t about COVID. It’s about teachers just not wanting to teach.
19	18-Mar-20	Teach your kids empathy and compassion. I'm literally begging you. I've been seeing nothing but teenagers in servers and online making fun of the COVID-19 virus, acting like it's not that bad and that what's occurring isn't that awful. I know they won't have the same grasp as	19-Jul-20	@CannedPodcast @CMS012345 @thehill I teach, and I see the clear difficulties, loss, and, yes, harm that children and families are subjected to when schools are closed. It’s got to be a clear analysis of benefit and risk: in some communities, COVID numbers are low enough that the risk may be worth taking.
20	21-Dec-20	Since March, I taught 4 online classes, finished a book, helped teach kid home & dealt with an international family emergency under Covid—I am taking next two weeks off to fight burnout & recharge for 2021. If you can (esp. workaholic academics), do it w/out shame or guilt!	31-Jul-20	@boo73165403 @BostonGlobe Covid has a 98.5 survival rate if u r afraid to teach just quit. My son is special needs and almost died when school stopped cuz of theese ridiculous lockdowns. If u get sick u wanna get cv19 it's the less lethal. Turn ur t.v. off ur being brainwashed by the news remote learning

21	13-Nov-20	It may seem silly to teach adults how to wash their hands, but there is a proper method to help lower your risk of spreading contagious illnesses, like COVID-19. Provide employees with a quick online training & help guard against the coronavirus. https://t.co/YksSbPiTiU #HR #HCM	6-Feb-21	@NealMcCluskey @epellefsen Yup, private school educator from the Southside here. I caught COVID at school and now I can't smell...many months after infect. Slowly getting reconciled to this loss. Still, I teach in person. I don't fault my many students/parents who are wary. This situation is complicated
22	13-Nov-20	It may seem silly to teach adults how to wash their hands, but there is a proper method to help lower your risk of spreading contagious illnesses, like COVID-19. Provide employees with a quick online training & help guard against the coronavirus. https://t.co/OX5Dduzv7M #HR	9-Mar-20	@DrPaulGosar I believe you are referring to COVID-19, a member of the Coronavirus family. While they don't teach virology to any extent in dental school your error can be understandable but please be careful as to an uneducated person you could be mistaken for an ignorant bigot.
23	30-Aug-20	The university sector is being left to deal with the problem of Covid on its own; the government is showing a lack of leadership. It is possible to teach online. Face to face teaching is a risk to students, staff and local communities. #coronavirus https://t.co/mb0LTomt0r	13-Jul-20	@jefflee1122 @mcuban How will school functions and holidays look? Also okay the cases that arent reported, what about the teachers who may not be resilient to the virus? Its bad when teachers have to call out sick bc of a cold. What happens when they have covid, and cant teach? The absence of a

24	30-Apr-20	@AskNationwide Please change the call waiting music. I'm forced to make long + expensive int'l calls to have my card unblocked. Understand there's an elevated risk and need for protection but please teach your system to recognise the need for online transactions during the COVID crisis.	15-Oct-20	I am afraid to visit my Mother because I could infect her with COVID and I only get two weeks off, I would have to quarantine and then school starts again and I have to teach. How many of you are keeping your distance from your elderly parents? This is Trump's fault. Vote Biden!
25	2-Jun-20	The hidden truth of Teach for America. The life of an essential worker amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Unique classes making light of the darkness. And the ongoing fight for the graduate community. This is PRIME, online today. https://t.co/DhMnXbN8Hf	13-Aug-20	@donwinslow I refuse be a pawn in this deadly game of chess. I will not to go back to teach with the numbers of Covid being as high as they are right now. I took a leave of absence. When Trump & DeVos said open the schools, I knew that meant I should stay home. Trump's word =all lies.
26	15-Dec-20	More than 42 mil Americans lack broadband, a problem exacerbated by the #COVID-19 pandemic, especially with schools nationwide forced to teach students solely online. 👉 #DigitalDivide @BerkeleyLaw https://t.co/nYOsVAQLeq	1-Nov-20	@SusannaW15 @campbellclaret I teach in a special school we have been open throughout. Daily staff provide care, support, and education as they get hit, bitten and spat at. It is difficult enough in normal times, with covid we are at breaking point but continue to serve. Such comments hurt. I cry as I read
27	25-Aug-20	@TeamKnowhowUK A plea for you to contact me! Sent in laptop for screen repair, was told 10 days due to COVID delay. Now day 12, no-one telling me when I'll get it back. Am music teacher, can't teach online without laptop, so losing all income. Urgently need laptop back, help pls!	29-Jul-20	@hdk108 @ssmunsell @wtp__2020 She has no clue. Kids touch and lick everything and spread their "diseases" far and wide. They are germ factories! I teach and always have a cold/flu. I haven't been sick at all since school stopped and we went into self isolation. That's over 4 months! Kids get Covid-19, too!

28	19-Jul-20	Rip my czn vice principal govt degree college Quetta is no more , another gem became victim of Covid 19 , Failed HEC policies forced professor Nadir shah Mashwani to teach lecturers regarding online classes ,@jam_kamal @dpr_gob @usmankhankakarp @LiaquatShahwani @nimra_pirkani	4-Apr-20	@keithlango So, direct manipulation or shapes and helpers? Why dislike the picker does it get in the way? Distracting? Cumbersome? There are schools that teach the love for the picker UI advice? I was going to get into how to make a reusable UI script thingy in max but then covid hit the fan
29	24-Aug-20	@Bongom2017 @jkenney ❤️ With three kids returning to class this year, I'm more confident with them being in class and NOT dying from Covid, than the transportation that will get them there! Measures are NONSENSE; kids are 0.00005% at risk: if teachers are worried they have the option to teach online.	12-Sep-20	@realDonaldTrump 192,846 DEAD-11 MILL + STILL UNEMPLOYED. Lyin trump & followers& @GOP REFUSE 2 WEAR MASKS-SPREAD THE trump COVID VIRUS CAUSE ECONOMY 2 SHUTDOWN & DEMAND WE WORK 2 CLEAN THEIR TOILETS/GET THEIR FOOD &TEACH THEIR KIDS w/0 CLEANING SUPPLIES or SCHOOL VENTILATION https://t.co/wFCQ3xcji8
30	23-Dec-20	@tannavicente @JoeBiden In return, we've been told that we don't have any choice to fully teach online. We would have to resign and face losing our certifications. Parents that once called us heroes are now suggesting that we are lazy, simply because we are afraid of getting COVID.	15-Dec-20	@peterweirmala Does the Covid allowance take into consideration teachers who need to isolate? And are unable to teach face to face. Schools are under a huge amount of pressure to get sub teachers that are subject specific, due to the high absence. Students are losing out on valuable learning

31	8-Apr-20	I've been in such a funk for the past month thinking about how I won't get to cross the stage, the fact that all my classes are online & I basically have to teach myself, family difficulties due to covid-19... I'm not in the head space for school rn... I hate this!	29-Jun-20	@AmerAcadPeds calls for students to return to school. So torn given how hard it is to remote learn/teach, lack of social skills, falling behind in class and safety of staff/kids.#Covid_19 U.S. Pediatricians Call For In-Person School This Fall https://t.co/DCgG1fsNHm
32	6-Sep-20	@DrLeeJones @BBCRadio4 What's funny about your use of that episode is that while it debunks an errant tweet (which I agree was exaggerated) the same mathematician also supports the need to teach online. Again you're focusing only on risk of death and none of the other health complications of Covid-19.	3-Jul-20	@andrewsduncan1 @allisonpearson @UsforThemUK How many people died of cancer or heart disease ? it's awful covid is a terrible disease but let's not destroy our kids and country's future arguing over specifics. We have short memories for the risks teachers faced in some schools before all this. Let those who want to teach.
33	15-Mar-20	@TwitchSupport - Maybe a weird question, but can I use twitch to teach my university class? Classes were cancelled for Covid-19 and I suspect Zoom and Skype are going to crash with all of the teachers trying to conduct classes online. #coroanvirus #schoolclosures	16-Sep-20	@djrothkopf Why are our schools so afraid to teach the truth? Whether the holocaust, slavery, and likely someday, tRump's utter failure and complacency in the deaths of hundreds of thousands of Americans from Covid-19. If we do not learn from our mistakes we are destined to repeat them.

33	25-Mar-20	#OnlineEducation: Current pandemic (of existing ICT incompetencies) along with COVID-19 is taking the (academic) world by storm !!! 34	19-Aug-20	@Noahpinion Dorms are stationary cruise ships. At my U students just moved in. Without them the small town the U (not me, I teach online from a lg metro) is located in goes under. It is what we used to call a "wicked" policy problem. We are also a COVID hot spot. Sigh.	28-Jul-20	@opiniatedbihch @BuzzFeedNews That's why they teach us in school to treat every patient like they had a contact disease. Hiv can only be transmitted through broken skin and a lot of people think it's like transmitted like covid. Afraid to breathe the same air as someone with hiv and it's sad
35	19-Aug-20	@kairyssdal Dorms are stationary cruise ships. At my U students just moved in. Without them the small town the U (not me, I teach online from a lg metro) is located in goes under. It is what we used to call a "wicked" policy problem. We are also a COVID hot spot. Sigh.	18-Feb-21	@chrislhayes Forcing teachers that are not vaccinated to teach in person is not right. have a dreadful fear of covid so I understand if teachers are afraid too. They should have a choice. A choice for parents too. I personally would not risk in-person school for my child.

36	23-Jul-20	hey @UofOklahoma I'm an adjunct at high risk for covid scheduled to teach "in person" this fall & never requested online bc 1) my colleague who is pregnant was denied & 2) I know you don't care if I die first day I will announce my class is online you can't make me OU 🙌 https://t.co/uNUt1yPrMD	21-Jan-21	@thomas2_p @BylineTimes @NafeezAhmed @GavinWilliamson Just learnt that a lovely lad I taught last year - I teach primary - is in a coma. WITH COVID. How the hell are schools and children safe #GavinWilliamson? In a country where the complete lack of competent leadership has resulted in many, many unnecessary deaths? Plague pits!
37	15-May-20	"A free online book "The Unwelcome Stranger" aims to teach kids about COVID-19 and start that tough conversation about fears and the unknown." https://t.co/ELraQ8jG3a	3-Jan-21	@danwritestweets @Rob_Kimbell Interesting to see the Army has stepped up in these times We might have technology, but working parents expect teachers to do their job and actually teach when schools are meant to be open. Lots worrying about having to take leave, or lose pay/jobs, as well as covid to cover this
38	24-Jun-20	Anonymous question "My R1 state university is now requiring people who have requested to teach online in Fall 2020 due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic to provide doctor notes. Is this egregious mistrust and/or common practice? Are others experiencing this?"	8-Sep-20	@CNN The school I teach at has been open 6 weeks now and not one confirmed case of COVID? Even our most liberal teachers are starting to scratch their head saying, "What the hell" they told us it was going to be a train wreck. Make you wonder, just saying. 😊

39	4-Jan-21	@NPR @ye_sano It's a mess. I fought for students who dealt with circumstances such as covid, or struggled with online courses I also heard too many stories about 'colleagues' being heartless, to the point of being absurd I just want to teach my students, not treat them as transactions	12-Mar-21	@EdMarkey The way that school staff have been shamed is disgusting. My sister has been forced to teach in-person since September. We lost our 66-year-old mom to COVID on 12/5/20. I have been terrified to lose my sister now as well.
40	20-Dec-20	Covid is rife in schools. Why the need to keep these open and not teach online while hospitality businesses, who've spent thousands on PPE and becoming Covid secure, are left to rot? The answer is so blatant it boils my blood! https://t.co/nHXjYdaJZA	30-Aug-20	@krishgm @TimothyDSnyder Ps. Can you please inform my school that due to the covid fears I shan't be coming back to teach, ever. Can't risk being one of the dozen or so fatalities every day due to this all encompassing plague. I will however, be sending my pupils daily set work on LGBTQ and black slavery
